National Park Biogradska Gora

In 1878 it was written that King Nikola Petrovic of Montenegro visited the Biogradsko Lake and was completely enchanted by the beauty of the landscapes. Thus he ordered for this valley to be safeguarded, so that the landscape would stay intact for future generations. Tourists can be assured that today the National Park Biogradska Gora is the oldest protected park in the world, due to King Nikola's vision for the future. The centuries old giant trees, the unique landscape amongst the glaciers, which are decorated with idyllic lakes and dense forests in the heart of the National Park, are variably covered with endless high grassy lands with fields of blueberries and traditional katuns.
